politics as in war, and calling them names does not change the belittle their power. said that there was leaders to enough in the fix such dates as they might deem expedient for the holding of the convention. In a certain measure this is true, but when that power was conferred upon them It was with certain reservations; the reservation, first, of good faith. Has this been done in good faith? It was intended that ordinary usages should be followed. It was intended that all Democrats should have an opportunity to register their voices. It was intended to cut off thousands of men without regard to right, in order to serve a purpose. It may be that no purpose exists. But there is one thing which we need not be politicians to understand. That is, that no great party can afford to place its members in such a strait that loyalty to party and self-respect cannot exist.'

Mr. Coudert was interrupted by frequent applause and laughter. Then it was noticeable that nearly all the applause came from the front section of the hall, containing about one half the audience. Those who applanded did so enthusiastically, but fully one-half the audience, mainly those in the rear seats or those standing in the aisles, maintained the attitude of spectators who listened. Some one shouted, "Three cheers for Grover Cleveland." There was a good response, followed by scattering hisses. The experiment was not tried again,

At the conclusion of Mr. Condert's speech a list of vice-presidents and secretaries, containing a selection of about three hundred names from those attached to the call for the meeting, was read.

THE RESOLUTIONS. Ex-United States District Attorney Walker then offered the following resolutions, which were warmly applauded. When Chairman Coudert called for the yeas and nays, the resolutions were adopted with practical unanimity, only a few scattering nays, less than a dozen in all, being heard when the chairman called for them. The resolutions were:

Resolved, That this assembly of Democrats of the city of New York now makes its respectful protest and appeal against the uncalled-for and ill-advised action of the State committee in designating so early a date as the 22d of February for the meeting of the State committee-a convention which is to elect delegates to the national convention appointed to be held at Chi-

Resolved. That the right of the voters of a political party to assemble at the call of the leaders, carry out its will in regard to the details of party managements, should not be curtailed in place or circumstance in such a way as to limit or embarrass a genuine expression of pop-ular party feeling upon the question in hand, that such expression should be made in party assemblies, upon subjects to be presently de-cided, at as near a time to that wherein decision is reached as can reasonably and conveniently be appointed. Delegates should be fresh from the people. No body of men elected to express the people. No body of men elected to express the will of the voters assembled in party convention should be, for an ureasonable time, custo-dians of the voters' rights, or hold their dele-gated powers for a period longer than is absolutely necessary for the purpose. The people are justified in resenting any action on the part of the party leaders, whereby their voices shall be uppressed or perverted.

Resolved, That the history of contests upon national issues in the State of New York since 1856 shows that too much prudence cannot be exercised, nor too much enthusiasm or labor ssible in the effort to carry the State of New York for the Democratic party. The record of success is confined to three out of the nine most recent canvasses. We have met and every time must meet an arrogant and unscrupulous adver-sary. The area of contest is our whole imperial domain. In such a stri. | success does not go to numbers only. It rests upon unity and fidelity in every county to the interests and principles of the voters as declared in party platforms which have been the basis of a successful contest, and it is absolutely necessary in every campaign that no just grievances of the people, from the conduct of party managers, should produce lukewarmness or hesitation anywhere in the great army of Democratic voters. They are a body of volunteers, and not hired soldiers, and must be taken into the confidence of their leaders in the early stages of the fight. Leadership need not and should not involve

Resolved, That the State committee holds its functions and political powers in trust for the welfare of the party. Its action in calling the convention for the 22d of February, and there-by forcing the holding of primaries on brief notice, is contrary to party usage and irregular. It denies to the Democratic electors of this State a full, fair and effective exercise of their right to be represented in caucusses, primaries and district and State conventions. Their action is a grave violation of the political duties of the committee, which cannot but expose the party to needless danger in the election next November. Resolved. That a copy of these resolutions, over the hands of the president of this meeting. be sent to the several members of the State committee, and that a committee of fifty, with power to add to its number, be appointed by the chairman of this meeting to communicate with the members of the Democratic State committee and respectfully protest against its action in designating the date already fixed for the State convention, and that it be urged to reconsider such action and revoke the call; and if that is not done, that the committee hereby created exerelse such further powers and take such other action as may secure a proper representation of the people of the State in the national convention of the party, and as may seem proper and in accordance with the spirit of those resolutions.

A telegram was received from W. Rayan, of the Democratic State committee of Richmoud, Va., and others. A telegram of commendation was received from the State of Alabama, which was as follows: The Montgomery Cleveland Democratic Club, five hundred members, express to the mass-meeting at Cooper Union its cordial indorsement of the meeting's object, and protest against the action of the New York State committee as unjust, unfair and as seriously imperilling the party's interests throughout the Union.

WILD FOR CLEVELAND, of Erie county. He declared for sending a delegation to Chicago to come right from the heart of the people ["and for Grover Cleveland," shouted a voice, amid cheers, strong for genuine tariff reform, for a sound currency, an administration conducted on business principles, and for the nomination of a high-minded Democrat, who is such in deeds and not in words alone. It was during this speech that the latent enthusiasm for Grover Cleveland was brought out. Yeils went up as from one throat, and cheers upon cheers. Hats were waved and umbrellas flourished wildly. 'Grover Cleveland." went up the cry. What's the matter with Grover?"

"He's all right," came the response. Mr. William A. Beach, of Syracuse, next spoke, and referred to the calling of a winter convention as a "gross and damnable

Mr. E. Elery Anderson, one of the leaders in the meeting of protest, set forth that Mr. Cleveland stood emphatically for tariff reform and against free coinage of silver. while Mr. Hill practically favored silver legislation. "I do not intend," said Mr. Anderson, "to say anything as to the merits of the positions taken by these two distinguished citizens of our State to the issues above referred to. I only refer to them to say that they present questions of great gravity, questions of great moment, questions which involve almost every commercial and industrial interest in the land. I only refer to them to say that if ever there was an occasion when it was right, and proper, and just that the people who were to be affected by the result of these issues should have full opportunity to deliberate. discuss and decide, of their own free will. which of the two men should be their standard-bearer, that occasion was presented by the gravity of these issues and the relations held thereto by these two candidates. It was under these circumstances that a committee of thirty-four gentlemen met together on the 29th of January, at the Hoffmam House, in the city of New York, for the purpose of determining the time at which the State convention should be held. In the face of a protest of unrivaled force and clearness of expression contained in the leading Democratio organ of this city, with the knowledge of all the facts above referred to relating to the issues and the candidates, with the knowledge that there was, as a matter of fact, a wide divergence opinion among the people as to these candidates, the committee, without deliberate consideration and after a session not exceeding forty minutes in duration, issued their call for the 22d of February next. It was certainly a departure from usage and from precedent. No good reason has been assigned by any mem-ber of the committee or any of its defenders for this extraordinary action, and no reason can be assigned for it except that it was intended to advance the fortunes and the ambitions of David B. Hill." Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Chas. S. Fairehild, said: "We who have been active in this movement and who will continue to be active therein until the end thereof. have only done our simple duty towards a crats, both in State and Nation, feel this peril and, therefore, that we would be cravens and cowards did we not do our utmost to give an outlet to the deep feeling which we know to exist and which has been repressed by every device known to official power and party machinery. Just so firm as has been and as will be my devotion to Democracy, just so firmly will I stand by this movement to check the usnrpers, who, while wearing the labels, seek to blind all true Democrats in chains and thus prevent them from defending the principles of the Democracy. The meeting closed with rattling cheers for Grover Cleveland.

SWINDLED BY "BUNCO" MEN.

$300 Paid by a Farmer for Brown Paper, but Supposed to Be "Green Goods."

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.-John Delarch. typical farmer from Putnam county, Georgia, was swindled out of $300 to-day by "bunco" men, who gave him a box they said contained $3,200 in counterfeit money, but which was filled with packages of brown paper. A detective saw the farmer and a green-goods man together, and took them both into custody. The farmer had two big revolvers and a dirk-knife on his person. The "bunco" man gave the name of Wm. Mackey, a salesman, but refused to give his address. Delarch stated that the good money with which he purchased the alleged counterfeit did not belong to him. He said he met Mackey by appointment in Philadelphia, and came with him to this city. Both men were locked up, and will be arraigned in court

Killing Off United States Witnesses. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Feb. 11.-J. W weatman, of Cleburne county, testified in the United States Court against a band of noonshiners. A few days ago the gang went to his house and shot Mrs. Sweatman and her son. Lafayette Anderson was also killed by the same men. The government officials think there is an organized attempt to intimidate United States witnesses in Cleburne county. Sweatman was caught and whipped by J. E. Brown, Wm. Chandler and Robert Junior, ten days ago, for testifying against moonshiners. Sweatman was away from home when his wife and boy were shot.

Shot by Men in Women's Clothes, LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Feb. 11 .- A dispatch related the assassination of Hamp Riscoe, wife and son, at England, Ark. An inquiry revealed that the dispatch was not wholly correct. There was no mob. The Riscoes had been arrested and placed in a small house near the depot at Keen, Ark., under guard. The leading colored men of Little Rock are at the head of the movement. The association will be national and will admit members from any State in the Union. The object is to establish and operate business houses for the colored people, to be conducted by members of their race. W. H. Lee is president and R. B. Wine is secretary of the association.

Why the Water Tasted Bad. TOPEKA, Kau., Feb. 11 .- For some time the people of Norton, Kan., have been complaining of the water furnished by the local water company. Finally it became so bad no one would use it. Tuesday night the pumps were stopped, and yesterday a workman entered the stand-pipe to clean it. To his horror he discovered the badlydecomposed remains of a man, which had evidently been there for weeks. They were unrecognizable, and the clothing contained no means of identification. The man had evidently climbed the pipe and cast himself in.

Japan's Generous Offer to Chicago. CHICAGO, Feb. 11.- Yesterday as the South Park commissioners were holding a business meeting. Togima, a Japanese, on behalf of his government, told the board that Japan wanted to put up a stone building in Jackson Park, lay out Japanese gardens all around it, fill the building with rare works of art, and then give everything to the city of Chicago. Tegima also said that the government of Japan would vote an annual appropriation to keep up the building and gardens. The whole thing will be a part of the Japanese display at the world's fair.

TOPICS OF THE COMMONS. Edward De Cobain to Be Expelled-Irish

Treason-Felony Prisoners. LONDON, Feb. 11 .- In accordance with the notice given upon the opening of the session, Mr. Balfour, government leader in the ing Juan Flores, a son of Manuel Flores, a | House of Commons, moved that Mr. Edward De Cobain, member for East Belfast, who is came into Laredo and surrendered himself | and has been for many months past a fugito Deputy United States Marsal Yglesias | tive from justice, in consequence of the issuing of a warrant for his arrest on a grossfore the United States commissioner in | ly mmoral charge, be notified to attend the session of the House on Tuesday, the of Garza's filibusters. He readily gave | 23d inst. Sir William Vernon Harcourt, bond in the sum of $2,000. Later last night | Liberal, seconded the motion, and it was adopted by the House in silence.

This is a move preparatory to the formal expulsion of the offending member, for there is every reason to believe that Mr. De Cobain will not return to England to night and reports everything quiet in the | face the grave charges hanging over him. The Right Hon. Henry Chaptin, president of the Board of Agriculture and member of the Cabinet, stated that the foot and mouth disease of cattle had been traced from Norfolkshire to various places in London. The disease originated in England, he added, from cattle imported from Denmark. The danger of the disease spreading was extreme, and the most stringent measures had to be adopted to stamp it out. Mr. Chaplin further said that the Danish government had failed to discover the existence of the disease in Denmark, but, nevertheless, it was known to exist in Germany, and it was believed to have reached Denmark by way of Schleswig-Holstein, Mr. Chaplin concluded by stating that the importation of live cattle from England was suspended from every European country except Norway, Sweden, > Spain and Portugal. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the leader of he Liberal Unionists, in resuming the debate on the address in reply to the Queen's speech, twitted the opposition with still not knowing what home-rule scheme Mr. Gladstone intended to submit. He twitted them, also, concerning their wavering policy in regard to the evacuation of Egypt.

The Rt. Hon. John Morley, member for Newcastle-on-Tyne, Mr. Gladstone's lieutenant, replied that the Liberals had not asked for the instant evacuation of Egypt, but they were opposed to Lord Salisbury acting as if England had rights beyoud those from mandatory powers. garding the Irish local government bill Mr. Morley said the Liberals knew that whatever Mr. Balfour's proposals were they were only a stepping stone to a larger and safer measure. The time would soon come to end the unseemly conduct of certain members calling themselves Liberals, while denouncing Liberal principles.

Cheers. Mr. John E. Redmond, in sproposing an amendment for the release of treason felony prisoners, repudiated any sympathy with dynamiters. He vindicated the innocence of Daty and Egan. If there was a shadow of a doubt in their cases it demanded that another inquiry be made. He had seen Egan, who declared that life in Portland prison was killing him. Daly, Mr. Redmond said, had been poisoned by accident three times. Mr. Matthews, the Home Secretary, held that these prisoners were fairly treated: that they were dynamite, not political convict, and that their sentences ought to run the usual course. Mr. Matthews said that the government had proof that Daly had asked for and received money and bombs from New York. He declined to produce this proof. Daly's suggestion that he had been the victim of a police plot was unfounded. Egan's offense, the Home Secretary said, was a lesser one. The time might come when it would be possible to reconsider his case. In the House of Lords to-day the Marquis of Londonderry asked whether it was true that Mesers. John Dillon, William O'Brien and W. Timothy Healy, all members of the House of Commons, had, at their own request, been accorded police protection it Ireland. Earl Cadogan, Lord Privy Seal, replied that police protection had been accorded to the gentlemen named, but further than that he declined to say anything.

The Marquis of Londonderry reminded the house that "these persons only recent-ly went about posing as idols of the Irish people. They had denounced the executive power in the most violent language for having them shadowed, but now they were extremely glad to avail themselves of shadowing for their protection. The Marquis further said that protection had been conceded to them because two raging factions existed in Ireland who were breaking each other's heads and who were ready to shed each other's blood. It was to the interest of the Unionists to let the English people understand the condition of the lrish parties in order that they might realize how absurd and dangerous it would be to grant the Irish any measure of home rule that would place the loyal minority at the tender mercies of such men. If Earl explanation in reply to the question asked him he [the Marquis of Londonderry] would raise the whole question of protection in a Lord Salisbury said that the government could not be expected to divulge information it had received in confidence. The Marquis of Londonderry intimated that he would make a formal motion.

REV. SPURGEON'S FUNERAL. The Great Preacher's Remains Interred After Services at the Tabernacle.

LONDON, Feb. 11.-The last memorial services over the remains of the Rev. Mr. Spurgeon were held last night. The Metropolitan Tabernacle was crowded, and the services, which were not concluded until after midnight, were very solemn and 1mpressive. This morning a majority of the shops in the vicinity of the Tabernacle were closed, as a mark of respect to the dead minister, and the buildings very generally bore mourning emblems. The funeral services this morning opened at 11 o'clock. The members of Mr. Spurgeon's family, at present in London, the Mayor of Croydon, several members of the House of Commons, Baroness Burdett-Coutts, and deputations from sixty religious bodies were among those present. After the singing of the last hymn that Mr. Spurgeon had announced before he was taken sick, "The Sands of Time are Sinking." the Rev. Mr. Pierson, the American minister who filled Mr. Spurgeon's pulpit during the latter's illness, made a most eloquent address. He dwelt at length upon Mr. Spurgeon's powerful influence. cedar of Letanon has fallen," he said "and the crash of itsalownfall has shocked the whole land. No such vast vacancy has been felt in the church in a century." Mr. Pierson concluded his remarks by drawing parallels between the work done by Mr. purgeon and that performed by John Wesley. After the offering of prayers and the singing of hymns, Mr. Pierson prononneed the benediction. The olive-wood coffin containing the remains was then taken from the catafaigue, on which it had rested since Monday night, and conveyed to the hearse in waiting at the main endown the aisle the entire congregation arose and joined in singing the hymn, There is no Night in Homeland. After the mourners had entered the carmages the funeral procession started for Norwood Cemetery, where the remains were interred. There were an enormous number of coaches in the procession, and the entire route from the tabernacle to the course of people. Three mounted policemen preceded the hearse. The sides of the hearse bore the text: "I have fought a good fight: I have finished my course; have kept the faith." As the cortege moved slowly along the spectators removed there hats and bowed their heads, and the bells at half-mast. Places of business between Kensington and Clapham were closed, and many of the houses had their blinds drawn. The children from the Stockwell Orphanbeen erected for their use at a point where a view of the procession (could be had. The platform was heavily draped with black crepe and other mourning emblems. There was an immense crowd in Norwood Cemetery awaiting the arrival of the funeral procession. When the hearse entered the cemetery all bared their heads. The coffin was taken from the hearse and borne reverently to the vault, in which it was de-This vault will be surmounted by a bronze statue of Mr. Spurgeon, and upon it will be placed bas reliefs symbolic of the dead minister's benevolent works. The Rev. Archibald C. Brown, pastor of the East London Tabernacle, delivered the funeral oration at the cemetery. Rev. Mr. Pierson then offered prayer, the language of which was touchingly eloquent. The Right Rev. Randall Thomas Davidson, Bishop of Rochester, then pronounced the benediction.

After the religious ceremonies had been concluded the people present formed in line and slowly filed before the open vault and took their last look upon the coffin of the man whose loss is mourned by thousands of people of London.

FINAL CEREMONIES.

Miss Mattle Mitchell's Marriage Clinched by Vows in Ste. Chothilde Church. Paris. Feb. 11.—The civil marriage of the Duc De la Rochefoucauld and Miss Mattie Mitchell, daughter of Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, took place yesterday at the maire of the seventh arrondissement, and to-day the religious ceremony was performed at the church of Sainte Clothilde, a modern fashionable church a short distance from the Duke's residence in the Rue de Bellechasse. The church was crowded with the friends of the two families. Many army officers, members of the nobility and the leading Americans at present in Paris were seen among the fashionable throng. Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the American minister, and Mrs. Reid, and Mr. Augustus Jay. the second secretary of the American legation, and Mrs. Jay were among those present. The ceremony took place at noon.

Mr. Whitelaw Reid and the bride were the first of the wedding party to enter the church. They were followed by the Duke the dowager Duchess De la Rochefoucauld. Baron De Struve, the Russian minister to Washington, and Mrs. Mitchell, the mother of the bride, and the Duke De la Roche-foucauld-Doudeauville and the Duchess De Luynes. Then came Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, escorted by Count De la Rochefoucauld. The altar of the church was prettily decorated with flowers and potted plants, and scores of lighted candles shed their soft radiance upon the scene. music and the singing were very The sermon was short and low mass was celebrated. A reception in the sacristy followed the ceremony, and upon its con-clusion the bridal party passed between lines composed of over five hundred of their friends, down the central aisle to the carriage in waiting. They were driven to the Hotel de Hollande, where they attended the reception given by Mr. Mitchell. Afterward the bride and groom left for the Chateau Beaumont, near Rheims. Mr. Whitelaw Reid and Baron De Struve signed the register as witnesses for the bride. Among the more prominent American guests at the religious ceremony may be mentioned Mrs. Spencer Lorillard, Mrs. Robert Leecoy, Mrs. Breese, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rhinelander, Mr. and Mrs. Luckermeyer. Mr. and Mrs. Ridgeway and Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe.

COAL PORTERS ON STRIKE. London Dealers Compelled to Drive Their Own Wagons-Fuel Famine Imminent. LONDON, Feb. 11.-The striking coal porters declare that they will not yield until their demands are conceded. To show the disadvantages under which the delivery of coal is accomplished, owing to the strike, it may be said that the owners of many coal depots could be seen to-day driving their ewn wagons. A few of the wagons were driven by men not be longing to the coal porters' union. Strikers would follow these wagons for the purpose of either inducing or forcing the drivers to leave them, but the police were vigilant and all such attempts were frustrated. Nearly every coal depot on the river Thames is at a standstill. Thirty barges ar . waiting to be unloaded at Black Friars. The strike was entirely unexpected by the men, who were apprised of the action taken by the leaders by delegates, who were dispatched to the depots with orders for the men to quit work. So suddenly was the strike decided upon that the men emtime to procure a supply of coal against the famine with which London is now threatened. The retail dealers have already advanced the price of the commodity, and this will cause much suffering of $10,000 per month devoted to Jewamong the poor, who are compelled to buy ish immigrants arriving in New York, their coal in small quantities. If the strike Danziger save: "The Baron learned that continues it will cause widespread distress for factories and places of that description will be compelled to close down because of a lack of fuel, and many men will thus be thrown out of employment.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

Three Ministers Resign.

LONDON, Feb. 12.-A dispatch to the Times from Rio de Janeiro states that affairs there are in a very bad shape, and, notwithstanding the fact that the election of General Peixotto to succeed General Da

Fonseca as President of the Republic was thought to indicate that peace and prosperity would once more vail throughout the country, another revolution is imminent. Three Ministers have banded their resignations to the President and this is taken as an indication that the government is breaking up. At Pelotas, in the State of Rio Grande do Snl. the feeling between the populace and the government troops is very bitter and it is feared that a conflict may occur at any moment. The government land telegraphs between Pelotas in the State of Rio Grande do Sul and Porto Alegre, the capital of the State, have been cut.

Unemployed Laborers at Vienna. LONDON, Feb. 12.-The Vienna correspondent of the Graphic sends a dispatch to his paper about the suffering that exists among the laboring classes in that city. He says: "The destitution that prevails here at present is greater than it has been in many years. Thousands of respectable persons are idle and starving through the operation of the American tariff. A large percentage of the expert mechanics here are glad to emigrate, but are deterred from doing so by conscription. The misery of the poor people in this city is enhanced by an influx from the provinces of a large number of persons who are out of employment and are flocking to Vienna in the hope of obtaining work. The total number of unemployed persons in this city is estimated at seventy thousand. It is hoped, however, that the extension of the city limits will give an impetus to building operations and that public works which the government is maugurating will also improve the present deplorable state of affairs. Tewfik's Death Hastened by Morphine. LONDON, Feb. 11.-The British Medical Journal, in its current issue, says: "We have received a series of manuscripts and printed documents bearing upon the last illness of the late Khedive of Egypt. To publish them, or even an analysis of them, would renew the most painful impressions. It is impossible, in the light of all the facts, not to arrive at the conclusion that Tewfik's death was hastened by the untimely administration of morphine. French General Executed for Treason. LONDON, Feb. 11 .- The Chronicle's Paris correspondent says: "A report comes here from China, by way of Singapore, that Gen. Tchen Estong has been executed at Tien Tein for treason, in having pledged himself to support French influence, in having become a Christian, and in having sought an audience with the Pope to facilitate the work of Catholic missions in China. The Emperor of China was reluctant to sign the death-warrant, but the influence of the old Chinese anti-Christian party prevailed."

Archbishop Ireland at Rome. ROME, Feb. 11 .- The Most Rev. John Ireland, D. D., Archbishop of St. Paul, Minn. has arrived in this city. He is staying in the American College. When the Pope was informed of the Archbishop's arrival he sent a message to him asking him to often come to the Vatican to visit him. His Holiness added that he was anxious to confer with him on schelastic and other questions concerning the church in the United States.

Rumors of a Servian Revolution. LONDON, Feb. 11.-The Vienna corre spondent of the Chronicle says rumors are current in Vienna that a revolution has broken out in Servia. All telegrams from Servia are subject to censorship. The Servian minister in Vienna says there is no truth in the rumors.

Baron Hirsch Is Said to Have Investigated

the Handling of the Funds at New York. SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11 .- Jacob Danziger, a large wheat-dealer of Berlin, who is now here, is authority for a queer story about Baron Hirsch. He says Hirsch recently discovered that his agents in New York were not properly managing the fund Danziger says: "The Baron learned that the commissioner he had appointed gave no help to emigrants, but pocketed most of the money set aside for this benevolent purpose. He decided to look up the truth by going to New York, the better to get at bottom facts. He disguised himseif as a poor Hebrew and took steerage passage across the Atlantic. I was on the same must have had some important object to achieve, I did not recognize him by word or look. When New York was reached he went to the dingy pens of Castle Garden along with remainder of the Jewish exiles. Pretty soon the commissioners came down and the Baron begged of one of them a little assistance. Assistance was brusquely refused, and he was thrown aside by the very men who were handling his money. After observing their haughty, unscrupulous behavior for a few days the Baron quietly and secretly had them removed from their positions and others appointed. He told me he intended to have them prosecute before returning to Europe. He made the necessary preliminary arrangements to this end with the lawyers."

Uncleanly Sensationalism.

New York Commercial Advertiser. In spite of the general horror inspired by the burning of the Hotel Royal certain journals have not hesitated, in the interests of an nucleanly sensationalism, to treat certain episodes of the fire in a highly objectionable way. In a metropolitan city of the size of New York, into which strangers are pouring day and night from all parts of the earth, it is naturally impossible, even in the most conservative hotels, to maintain an entirely effective scratiny upon new arrivals or verify all signatures on the pages of the hotel register. In some hotels, doubtless, this scrntiny is stricter than in others. But the innuendoes of the journals in question have gone the length of predicating a state of things of the management of the Hotel Royal that does greatininsice, at any rate, to many of its guests. In spite of the fact that families of the highest respectability have made their home in this hotel for years, it is suggested to the public that its female guests belonged exclusively to the demi monde class. This may make interesting reading and add to circulation in certain directions, but such success comes dear, since it is at the expense of the rights and feelings of many worthy people who are insulted without cause and justification.

THE MAN FOR THE PLACE. Reasons Why Republicans Should Rally Around President Harrison.

One thing ought to be generally under-stood, and it cannot be too early said or too vigorously insisted on. This is that the hoice of the Republican party lies between Mr. Blaine and President Harrison. With Mr. Blame out of the field by his own voluntary act, the concentration of Republican sentiment upon Mr. Harrison will be clear and numistakable. The notion that only Mr. Blaine could command success is an invention of the enemy, not to be entertained for a moment by genuine Republicans. The Republican party could elect any one of half a dozen leaders. But President Harrison, under the present circumstances, is by all odds the strongest leader who could be selected. There should be no frittering away of strength upon side-show candi-There should be a rallying of Republican forces behind President Harrison, He has given us an administration which has been clean, strong, consistent, high-minded and creditable to the country. He has developed varied and ample resources of statesmanship to meet trying emer-gencies. Where he has made enemies within the party it has usually been because he refused to be controlled for selfish and personal interests. He has been maligned and misrepresented, as is the common lot of Presidents, but his administration stands without a stain. He has been wisely but not timidly conservative, and his renomination and re-election would be a guarantee of the stability o business and political interests. Against such a candidate as is likely to be nominated at Chicago, by a convention controlled by the influences now dominant in the Democratic party, he would command the support of genuinely independent voters more than any other candidate, and would poll the full party strength.

Always Did Bate the Soldiers, New York Press. A Democratic contemporary of the Hill stripe declares that this is "not a year for pension legislation." Of course not.
